I have been informed that this rule change will restrict our ability to trade options in mine and my wife's IRA accounts. We believe this is a restriction that will take away our ability to decrease our portfolio risk and reduce the growth of our IRA Portfolio. We have never experienced a loss in using options and we believe it to be unfair to eliminate our ability to make minor increases in our portfolio value by buying & selling options under the current rules which we have lived by for years. Please don't change the rules as they apply to options sales.

Sincerely,
